To whom it may concern:

In early 2013 Grange Insurance made a commitment to obtain the LEED (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design) operations and maintenance certification for our corporate headquarters. As part of the certification process, Four Seasons Engineering was selected to complete a retro-commissioning of our facility.

Chris Rice and Tom Kennedy with Four Seasons Engineering provided excellent service performing a detailed review of our operating systems and identifying items for repair and/or adjustment. In addition to the retro-commissioning, they also assisted in the preparation of a "Method of Understanding" document submitted to the AEP Incentives Program. Any questions that our team had during the retro-commissioning Chris and Tom were quick to obtain the answer and respond.

Chris and Tom worked closely with the Grange Facilities Team and we are very appreciative of their expertise and assistance.

Kindest Regards,
GRANGE INSURANCE
